Monthly Newsletter for the USF SafetyFlorida Consultation Program

Developing a Company Safety Goal

As part of our safety and health consultation services, while on-site, consultants complete a company "safety policy and procedures" evaluation as part of our safety review. One of the 58 questions we ask is, "What is your safety goal for this year?" The typical answer is, "our goal is no accidents this for this year." Read More.

Think SHARP

OSHA's Safety and Health Achievement Recognition Program awards and exempts businesses with exemplary safety and health management systems from OSHA inspections for a period up to two years. Qualifying businesses must participate in a comprehensive on-site safety and health analysis and also have Days Away, Restricted or Transferred (DART) and Total Recordable Case (TRC) rates lower than their industry average.

For more information regarding the SHARP program or to see previously profiled success stories, click here.

From the Program Director

Charlene Sitterly, MS.Ed., CWCP

A special thanks to all who were able to join us during the heat stress webinar. I hope you found the information extremely valuable, and will make use of the plethora of resources we provided. Remember that heat-related illnesses are indeed preventable through Water, Rest and Shade. Read More.
