

15th WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

USF INTERNAL MEDICINE & PEDIATRIC DIVISIONS OF ALLERGY AND IMMUNOLOGY

This newsletter is to introduce you to Juan Carlos Cardet-Guisasola, M.D., MPH, who joined the Division of Allergy and Immunology, Department of Internal Medicine, University of South Florida Morsani College of Medicine, as a faculty member, July 2017.

*Juan Carlos Cardet, MD
Assistant Professor of Medicine & Pediatrics
Division of Allergy & Immunology, Department of Internal Medicine
University of South Florida Morsani College of Medicine*

Dr. Cardet with his daughter, Mila, and son, Mikel

Juan Carlos Cardet, MD, MPH received his BS degree from Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts in 2004; medical degree from the University of Puerto Rico, San Juan, Puerto Rico in 2008; and master's degree in public health from Harvard University, Boston, Massachusetts in 2017. He completed his internal medicine training at the University of Connecticut in 2011 where he was given the Maxwell O. Phelps, M.D. award for scholarship and the Hartford Hospital Outpatient Clinic Resident of the Year Award. He completed his allergy and immunology (A/I) training at the Brigham and Women's Hospital/Harvard University in 2014. He served as an instructor in medicine at Harvard Medical School and as the assistant director of the Asthma Research Center at Brigham and Women's Hospital from July 2014 until June 2017.

Dr. Cardet is an assistant professor in the USF Department of Internal Medicine. He specializes in the treatment of patients with asthma, chronic urticaria, chronic rhinitis, and other allergic and immunologic diseases. He is board certified in internal medicine and in A/I and is a fellow of the American Academy of Allergy Asthma and Immunology (AAAAI). He enjoys working with medical students, residents, and A/I fellows. His translational research focuses on understanding the pathophysiology of severe asthma with the aim of identifying novel therapies. He was awarded a K23 grant in 2017 by the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) so he can pursue this endeavor. He is an investigator with the AsthmaNet, Severe Asthma Research Program (SARP) and PRECISE NHLBI research networks. He is co-chair of the executive, publications and data sharing committees of the Patient Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI)-funded PRECISE trial.

Dr. Juan Cardet, MD lives his life for his children and for allergy/immunology and medicine. He is an outstanding clinical investigator at the University of South Florida Morsani College of Medicine.

With warm regards,

Richard F. Lockey, MD
Distinguished University Health Professor
Joy McCann Culverhouse Chair in Allergy and Immunology
Professor of Medicine, Pediatrics & Public Health
Director, Division of Allergy and Immunology
Department of Internal Medicine

Jolan Walter, MD, PhD
Robert A. Good Endowed Chair in Immunology
Associate Professor of Pediatrics and Medicine
Chief, Division of Allergy and Immunology
Department of Pediatrics