

Resident Research Day

June 17, 2005

Program

Time	Topic	Speaker
	Moderator: J.K. Williams, M.D.
1:00-1:15	Primary cesarean section: Effects of visceral and parietal peritoneal closure	Diana Connor, M.D.
1:15-1:30	Multiple gestations and gestational diabetes	Christine Tebes, M.D.
1:30-1:45	The outcome of perioperative low molecular weight heparin in gynecologic surgery	Jennifer George, M.D.
1:45-2:00	Do GBS carriers have more histologic chorioamnionitis?	Brooke Slaton, M.D.
2:00-2:15	Differentiating pelvic masses - uterine vs ovarian origin	Kristen Helm, M.D.
2:15-2:30	BREAK
	Moderator: Catherine M. Lynch, M.D.
2:30-2:45	University of South Florida's twenty year experience in the treatment of uterine sarcomas	Kristin Patrick, M.D.
2:45-3:00	Ovarian function after chemotherapy for breast cancer	Ryan Riggs, M.D.
3:00-3:15	Upper vaginectomy for the treatment of intraepithelial neoplasia	Megan Indermaur, M.D.
3:15-3:45	How do OB/GYN residents feel about elective primary cesarean sections?	Monique Simmons, M.D.
3:45-4:00	Can spot urine protein: creatinine ratio help predict significant proteinuria in pregnant patients?	Nicole Fanarjian, M.D.
	Moderator: Michael T. Parsons, M.D.
4:00-5:00	Anatomy for the obstetric and gynecologic resident	Katherine Y. Look, M.D. Professor Dept. OB/GYN Indiana University School of Medicine