The USF Silver Child Development Center conducts workshops that help young adults (ages 19 to 24) improve their interpersonal skills.

The 12-week workshops cover topics critical to improving how young adults interact with others. To benefit from these workshops, a young adult should have average to above average spoken language skill ability. Groups include young adults with Asperger’s Syndrome, ADHD/ADD, and those with no diagnosis who are having challenges developing social relationships.

What participants will learn:

• Appropriate use of language to express self
• Awareness of how their behavior affects others
• Problem solving skills
• How to develop good relationships

Please call (813) 974-8900 to schedule an evaluation.
Cost
Services are paid on a self-pay basis. The cost is $50/week and is prepaid monthly by the first group meeting date of every month. A payment schedule will be given out at the beginning of each group’s start day.

Note: Please be aware that fees will not be waived due to absences. Methods of payment accepted: cash, check, and all major credit cards.

Requirements
An intake interview will need to be scheduled to determine a base level of functioning, which will cost $250 self-pay. Please call (813) 974-8900 to schedule.
