

Health Care Accreditation as a Population Health Strategy

Stephen A. Martin, Jr., PhD, MPH

President and Chief Executive Officer of the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care

Why do we bother with accreditation? It's just a time-consuming, labor-intensive exercise in paperwork, right? Well...no, it is much more than that. Discover how our hard work and dedicated efforts to meet the Standards of AAAHC and AAHHS-HFAP improve safety and quality and pay off in bigger ways than you might imagine, and for more people than you thought possible.

March 17, 2016

12 p.m. Sam Bell, III Auditorium
Room # 1023-B, COPH